NSL Analytical Services, Inc. appoints Andrea Pierce to Quality Manager

August 2015: Cleveland, Ohio: NSL Analytical Services, Inc., a recognized leader in analytical and metallurgical testing, is pleased to announce the appointment of Andrea Pierce to Quality Manager. Andrea was previously in the role of Audit Specialist.

In 2012, Andrea joined NSL Analytical as the Document Coordinator for the Quality Department. She attended the Nuclear Internal/ External Auditor training course in Orlando and received training as a Lead Auditor. She played a key role in implementing the ASME NQA-1 compliance program and was named Quality Assurance Audit Specialist in the Fall of 2014. Andrea has been responsible for planning and conducting a full internal audit scope on an annual basis for all compliance requirements, and coordinating customer audits at all NSL sites.

In her new role, Andrea will be responsible for the overall planning, management and coordination of all Quality Assurance activities to ensure that NSL delivers quality results which satisfy our customer's requirements. Andrea recently represented NSL at the Nadcap meeting in Montreal, Canada as part of the transition Quality Manager.
